Mingo Miners Army Disbands

Mingo War Resumed Thru Night

Some Miners Disregard Decision Of Majority And Resume March. Others Reach Charleston On Way Home. Special Deputies Rushed To Scene. No Late Reports Of Fighting.

Madison, W. Va., Aug. 27.—It was all over but the shouting here today. The march of miners had practically ended in failure to reach their destination. There were only a few stragglers who arrived after the mass meeting here yesterday afternoon when most of the men "listened to reason" and returned to their homes.

Williamson, W. Va., August 27.—Fighting between Sheriff Do nChafin's deputies and armed miners has been in progress at intervals all during last night and early today, according to a report received at military headquarters here this morning. Chafin asked for help for Mingo county and a force of 125 regulars and special State policemen left at daybreak for the scene.

McDowell county is also said to be sending 300 additional deputies by automobile.

No Estimate Of Casualties.

Chafin said he could give no estimate of the casualties because most of the firing occurred under cover of darkness. He reported however, that 1200 miners who crossed into Logan county near Sharpless late yesterday had seized the special train sent to carry them home and ran it to the terminal of the Coal Branch line near Blair, then started on the march direct to Logan. According to the report Chafin said the miners soon came into contact with his armed deputies and firing commenced.

Resume March at Midnight

Logan, W. Va., Aug. 27.—Thousands of miners are marching into Logan county in defiance of the majority who decided late yesterday to call off the "invasion" according to reports reaching here early today.

A clash was said to have occurred at the county line between deputies and miners reported molesting property. Posses of riflemen were back in their positions in vantage points in nearby hills today guarding against a possible ruse of the miners who have been marching into Mingo county.

The volunteer army was called to duty again at midnight after Logan

WORKMAN FINDS AN ANCIENT COIN

James Eadie, while at work on the Pine street sewer job, found a Spanish silver coin on the bank of the river bearing the date 1781. The coin is about the size of a dime and contains a likeness of Carolus-III on one side and a picture of the Spanish crown on the reverse.

The old coin was no doubt lost by some early day adventurer who poled or paddled his canoe up the West Branch in the early days before Izzy Hoffman broke into a baseball box score.

"CREDIT BANDIT" LOSES CONTROL OVER RETAILER

Philadelphia, Aug 27.—"The credit bandit' who in the past has taken advantage of an unprotected system, which scratched the surface but did not uncover the lower strata, or the real character and paying habit of the individual, no longer has the retail merchant at his mercy."

This is an extract from a statement of the retail merchants bureau of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, which several monts ago undertook to form a co-operative credit bureau that would prove an effectual protection for all the retail merchants of the city against unscrupulous buyers.

The new plan under which this bureau is operating contemplates a central clearing house, under competent supervision, in which all credit records will be centered so that any merchant can obtain a rating for an intended customer no matter where he may have been doing business. This plan provides for the listing of all the derogatory information as wel las good information, so that merchants are absolutely safeguarded.

FEELING OF OPTIMISM IN STEEL TRADE

The "Iron Trade Review" says: New inquiries, couple with a modest volume of buying, are tending to sustain a feeling of optimism which has prevailed in iron and steel markets since late in July. Interest in pig iron is more pronounced than last week while trading in finished steel products continues almost unchanged. Mill operations in the Mahoning valley decreased slightly but the relapse is offset by improved conditions in other steel centers. Sales of pig iron in Chicago and Philadelphia indicate that the recent buying movement was more extensive that disclosed. Sales of 10,000 tons of basic and 5,000 tons of foundry iron, and several lots of 2,000 tons each of malleable were made in a western city last week. Inquiries for large tonnages aggregate mere than 10,000 tons in New York; sales in eastern Pennsylvania totalled about 15,000 tons for the weeke. Although prices of certain grades of pig iron appear to be efirmer, quotations have remaiend at a standstill during the week. The composite market average of the "Iron Trade Reeview," based on selling prices of 14 iron and steel products, remains unchanged from last week at $36.03. This compares with $35,83 on August 10, $38.15 for July and $41.87 for June.

INDUSTRIAL MEET WILL BE HELD AT HARRISBURG

Conference Will Discuss Matters Of Vital Importance In The Idustrial World Of Today.

(By United Press.)

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 27.—An Industrial Relations Conference will be held here October 24 to 27th, under supervision of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry.

This is the first time that a state body has undertaken a thing of this kind. It is a definite step toward settlement of more than a score of problems that stand in the way of restored industrial conditions.

Government officials, representatives of labor as well as employers, commercial men, women of national prominence, cabinet members, educators and ministers will participate.

Unemployment, labor disputes, industrial waste, sanitation and safety, are some of the major questions that are to be discussed.

Secretary Hoover will discuss industrial waste, a subject with which he is more or less familiar, while Secretary Davis is expected to talk on the labor question.

Governor Sproul will select as his subject the importance of the state as a mediator and counsellor in industrial questions.

The part of women and children in industry will be explained by competent women who are working along these lines.

The keynote of the conference will be sounded by Herbert Hoover when he talks on industrial waste. There have been a number of bold assertions made with regard to the responsibility for the waste caused by labor turnover, disputes that have suspended production, and duplication of efforts These conditions have been termed the "evils of industry," and it is likely they will call forth the most heated discussion during the conference.

Definite steps will be taken to make the conference amount to something more than a debating society and it is planned to put the members on record on a number of proposals. In respect to publicity, there will be formed an association to co-operate with the industrial press of the state to furnish "plant organs" with information of interest to trade journals.

The accomplishment that has been made in the "safety" movement will be cited at the shining example of "industrial economy," it is understood. Education, sanitation, and science are the contributing factors to safety in industry, it is claimed.

"An industrial plant worthy of the name without a safety organization today is almost unknown," Commissioner of Labor and Industry Connelley has declared in respect to safety standards.

The conference was called at the instigation of Governor Sproul. It was deemed important at this time "to crystalize the efforts put forth by industrial, commercial, engineering, governmental, civic, educational and religiou sbodies, working for the most part independent of one another."

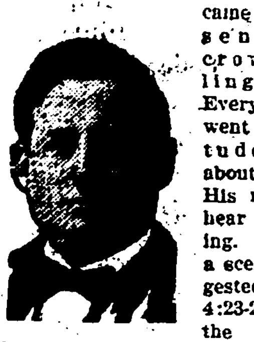
Drama of Christ and the Multitude

By REV. J. R. SCHAFFER.

Director of Evening Classes, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

TEXT.—And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me.—Matt. 11:6.



When Jesus stepped onto the stage of this world's history He soon became a startling, sensational, crowd-compelling attraction. Everywhere He went the multitude thronged about Him to see His miracles and hear His teaching. Picture such a scene as is suggested in Matt. 4:23-25. Consider the superlatives here: "All Galilee;" "All manner of sickness;" "All manner of disease." What a clinic! His fame went throughout all Syria. They brought unto Him all sick people and He healed them. Had ever physician or surgeon such success? "And there followed Him great multitudes of people." What renown! The whole country was stirred to wild enthusiasm. Over the hills and valleys of Galilee—far away to the south to Jerusalem—across the Jordan into Syria, the news was carried of the strange and unaccountable deeds of this new prophet.

One day the situation became so intense that popularity spelled peril. Jesus, to prevent a riotous demonstration, had to disentangle Himself from the crowd by taking ship across the Sea of Galilee to His prayer retreat in the mountain. But the people were not so easily dispersed. This only served to inflame their ambitions. They determined to press their demands. Around the head of the lake a vast procession pursues, as the boat carries Him away from them. They will find Him on the other side, but when they arrive He is gone. Whither they know not. They are aroused from their intent, to realize a gnawing hunger at the close of day in a waste and barren desert.

Boy's Lunch Feeds Multitude.

The watchful eye of Jesus was upon the surging, seething throng. He knew their need. His compassion was touched. He came to their relief. But what could He do? No money—no bread, no shops—nothing of human resource to meet this tremendous need. Oh! a gleam of hope! Andrew has found a boy with a few bites for a lunch—not loaves—not fishes, but five slices and two sardines. But what are these? Nothing to a man—less to a crowd of thousands—but to Jesus sufficient for every need. He used what a boy gave Him and fed full every member of that host and they took up twelve baskets of fragments. The residue far exceeded the original investment. It always does in His hands.

Far more passionate than before became the multitude, now hunger appeased, until turned into a wild tumultuous throng that clamored to make Jesus king. Why not? A king who could feed them with miracle bread when hungry, who could command their diseases and conquer their devils, who could meet every crisis with such poise and serenity! The cry was lifted, Lead on, O King! from five thousand voices. But behold, he responds not. He is unmoved by this uprising. He again eludes the crowd. But nothing save kingship thrust upon Him would calm their emotional tempest. They take up the trail again, until they find Him in Capernaum the next day.

His opportunity has now come. They must have the mists of delusion dispelled. They must know His terms of kingship. He knows their hearts. He dares to tear off the mask: "Ye seek me for the loaves and fishes."

Turn Away Offended.

What a rebuke! Their selfishness was unclothed. They began to murmur. They challenged Him with questions. Slowly He dropped the veil of prophet and miracle worker and disclosed His real identity as Messiah—Son of God, Eternal Bread of Heaven. They looked in skeptical wonder. What can he mean? How can he give us his flesh to eat? Why, he's crazy. His head is turned. We know his mother. We know the carpenter shop where he worked with his father. We know the town he came from. He is beside himself. Think of what he is saying! He will give eternal life! Why, this is blasphemy! "And from that time many of His disciples walked no more with Him."

How largely this pictures the attitude of the world to Jesus ever since—turning the back on Him. Oh, the crowds fed by Him, protected by Him, who have turned their backs, His only reward for compassion and provision. Oh, why are men offended in Jesus? In almost every crowd, when the gospel has been preached, some have murmured, disbelieved, rebelled, turned away—never to come back. Why?

"Men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil."—John 3:19. And their darkened minds fail to understand His message.

They stumble at the cross—"Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumbling block, and unto the Greeks (Gentiles) foolishness."—I Cor. 1:23.

"They could not enter in because of unbelief."—Heb. 3:19.

"O, taste and see that the Lord is good; blessed is the man that trusteth in Him."—Psalms 34:8.

LESSON FOR AUGUST 28

FROM ASIA TO EUROPE.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 16:6-18.

GOLDEN TEXT—And they said, believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house.—Acts 16:31.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Rom. 15:15-21.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Wonderful Dream.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul Crosses Over Into to Europe.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Beginning Work on a New Continent.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul Carries the Gospel to Europe.

I. Forbidden by the Holy Spirit to Preach the Word (vv. 6-8).

We have here a lesson on divine guidance. The inclination of Paul and his companions was to tarry in the provinces of Asia preaching the word, but contrary to their inclination they were hurried along. They might have reasoned "What difference would it make as to where we preach, just so the Gospel is preached?" Though seemingly small, the question as to whether the Gospel should be preached among the people in the East or in the West has determined the entire history of the church. Had they preached among the people in the East, Christianity would never have become worldwide. On the other hand, by laying hold upon the Grecian intellect and combining with it the push and energy of the Romans, it became worldwide. In the guidance of the Spirit we find Him just as active and as faithful in closing doors as in opening them. "The stops as well as the steps of a good man are ordered of the Lord." We ought to as truly recognize God's hand in the "shut-ins" as well as in the "open-outs."

II. Called to Macedonia (vv. 9-12).

A vision was given to Paul of a man from Macedonia pleading for help. This was the solution of the mystery of closed doors about them. There is a negative and a positive side to the Spirit's guidance. If we will note both we shall be able to determine with a surety the proper course of action. In order to be led aright we must be sure that we are willing to be led, pray definitely for leading, and then render willing obedience as fast as the light comes. As soon as the divine way was known they rendered immediate obedience.

III. The First Convert in Europe (vv. 13-15).

The missionaries went to Philippi. The Jewish element in this city was very insignificant; so much so that they could not afford a synagogue; therefore the devout people were accustomed to worship at the river side. To this humble gathering Paul came and preached to the women gathered there. A certain woman from Thyatira believed his message, and was baptized. Lydia was a woman of wealth, culture, and wide experience, and yet she had need of Chirst. The steps in Lydia's conversion are worthy of note:

1. Attendance at the place of prayer (v. 13). This is the case with most people who are saved.

2. Listened to the preaching of the word of God (vv. 12-14). The instrument used by the Holy Spirit in the conversion of sinners is the word of God. "Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God" (Rom. 10:17).

3. Her heart was opened by the Lord (v. 14). Regeneration is a supernatural work. When the Gospel is preached the Spirit of God makes it living and active, opening the sinner's heart for the reception of Christ.

4. She was baptized (v. 15). It is natural for the one who believes in Christ to desire to be baptized.

5. Her household also believed (v. 15). Thus we see that her's was a typical conversion.

IV. A Spirit of Divination Cast Out (vv. 16-18).

As the missionaries went out from day to day to the place of prayer they were accosted by a young woman possessed by a spirit of divination. She was owned by a syndicate of men who derived large gains from her soothsaying. This act of the woman became a great annoyance to Paul who, in the name of Jesus Christ, commanded the evil spirit to come out. Here is a case of a spiritual medium, a fortune-teller, being freed from demoniacal possession. Many men today are making money by the degradation of womanhood, and they resent all efforts to destroy their infernal business, even try to destroy those who interefere with their business. Here as everywhere Satan blocks the way as the Gospel of Christ is carried into new fields, but the Lord is again triumphant.

The Multitude of His Mercies.

For the Lord will not cast off forever: but though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies. For he doth not afflict willingly nor grieve the children of men—Lamentations 3:31-33.

Word of Lord Was Precious.

And the child Samuel ministered unto the Lord before Eli. And the word of the Lord was precious in those days; there was no open vision.—I Samuel, 3:1.

MILK

Nature's Real Food

Did you ever stop to consider that Dame Nature put all the needed ingredients into milk that is needed for proper nourishment? Experts have found out that if a person lives on one single food that milk will sustain the body longer than any one thing that's known.

And we want to say that when you're giving your kiddies all the Clearfield Milk they can drink, you're giving them that which will build bone and muscle. It is worth putting lots of milk on the kiddies' menu, isn't it?

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

"By Skinney"

Down at Bald Hill in Clearfield county, it is said the women have formed an "equal rights" society and after strenuous debate have adopted for the married women of same the slogan "Treat 'em rought," speaking of their husbands of course One of our male correspondents down there intercepted the following letter from his wife's sister, which embodies the new feeling of the women. We refuse to publish the poor devil's comments but here is the letter:

"I'm glad to know you and darling Buddie are well, but sure sorry you're having so much trouble with that beast of yours. But take it from me, Sis, not that I want you to get mixed up in anything, but the way to handle husbands is to "treat 'em rough." Do that and you'll fare better in the end, as I'm doing.

"I wish you could be like me. I sing all day long and feel as happy as a bird with my kiddies. But don't think I've an angel to deal with, for I haven't. We're still mad and he gets one fit after another. No matter what I do, it's wrong. So—Ish kabibble! I do as I please, anyway. Treat 'em rough!"

This is a queer old world. Uncle Sam collected about $500,000 as a result of the Dempsy—Carpentier fight which appeared to be legal and alright enough to get by, but Promoter Tex Rickard has since been fined $1000 on two different occasions for showing moving pictures of the battle.

SAVED—BY THE STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS!

Once more the old saying that the "Devil looks after his own" seems about to be verified. War Profiteers, who must (?) have been shaking in their shoes over the loud and widely advertised threats of government prosecution, can now relapse from their momentary embarrassment, slip their feet up on the desk again, and as usual, give old Uncle Sam the merry haw haw.

The "statute of limitations," it appears, is responsible for the anticipated collapse of the movement to prosecute war profiteers. It seems the Department of Justice has been busily engaged, since the signing of the armistice, in running down evidence against these profiteers. But, and there's the hitch, they have had a hard row to hoe. The profiteers just really refuse to come forward and present their necks to the legal ax. Some of them have not so much as lost a pinfeather, and the whole flock is reported to be intact and roosting high. Due to unconcern on the part of the alleged profiteers, and their seeming unwillingness to aid the investigators in providing any proof of profiteering in their lines, the Department of Justice is said to have made slow work of marshalling evidence. As a result the majority of the cases against profiteers are incomplete, and as they now are, would not stand in court.

As comparativly few war contracts were entered into after the signing of the armistice, those who have been assailed are anxiously awaiting the date when the three year limit, set by the federal statute of limitations in such cases, will roll around, thus freeing them from any anxiety over threatened prosecution.

That is the way with this particular statute, it seems to be written for the benefit of those who mulct the public.

WHAT WOULD SHERMAN SAY NOW ?

Old General Sherman's famous "war statement" was all right in its time, but what would he say if he was over in the Mingo Mine War district today. It is practically certain he would have to revise and add to his famous assertion.

How it is that the seemingly endless squabble in the Mingo field has not been settled, one way or the other many months ago, is hard to figure. After all the threats, shootings, plots and counter-plots, charges and counter-charges that have filled the West Virginia atmosphere in the last two years, it is almost impossible to believe reports of civil warfare now going on. The next step in order will be for President Harding to extend an invitation to West Virginia to attend the Disarmament Conference. The Balkans have nothing on West Virginia when it comes to "Baby Wars."

The blame for the lawlessness on both sides can be fairly attributed to the State Government for its repeated failures to extend its authority to the disputed counties. Lawless autocracy in industry has been followed naturally by lawless rebellion.

A THRONE IN MEXICO

Politics is a dangerous thing to monkey with in Mexico, according to recent press dispatches. It makes no difference whether it is on the Rebel or Nationales side of the fence, uneasy rests the head that wears the crown in that region. Co-incident with the report that a plot to assasinate President Obregon had been frustrated, comes another saying Villa, that arch rebel who was later admitted to the government fold, is fleeing for his life with bands of his own supporters in full pursuit.

The only advantage of being engaged in politics in Mexico would seem to be an assurance that there is always something doing, and time never hangs heavy on a leader's. hands.

Over in Fayette county it is reported rattlesnakes are becoming educated and automobile wise, and instead of wiggling across a road, easy prey for a brother rattler of the flivver type, now scoot through culverts under the county roads.

Which only leads us to say that in the region where rattlesnakes are plentiful in Clearfield county, a snake would wear himself out looking for a culvert to negotiate the crossing in safety.

TRAINING SEASON FOR DOGS, WEARING COLLARS, ETC

As a matter of information to dog owners, special attention is called to the present status of the law permitting the training of dogs, as follows:

Under the latest amendment to Section 26 of the Game Law, dogs may be trained upon any of the living wild game or birds, excepting elk and deer and fawns and wild turkeys, when accompanied by and under the control of their masters from the 1st day of September to the 1st day of March next following, Sundays excepted, so long as no firearms usually raised at arm's length and fired from the shoulder are carried and no injury is inflicted upon said animals or birds.

Another feature of the same section imposes a penalty of $10.00 for every day dogs are permitted to chase game during the close season and $5.00 for each game bird or rabbit killed without notice of any sort to owners to restrain dogs. Many dog owners have been under the impression that after September 1st they can turn their dogs loose and permit them to chase at will because the training season is on. This is absolutely prohibited, and dogs cannot legally be permitted to run at large and chase game at will even during the training season.

We wish also to call attention to the fact that dogs should at all times wear a collar to which is attached a metallic tag or plate on which the name and address of the owner is given in plain English; otherwise the dog may be killed without any notice if found chasing game during the close season for such bird or animal. Under the Dog License Law of the State, it is necessary that tag be attached to the collar of the dog at all times as proper protection under that law. The practice of removing collars from dogs while exercising or training or while tusing them during the open season for hunting may cause the loss of valuable dogs without redress in law, and owners are cautioned to keep collars on their dogs at all times, whether traininng or hunting.

Respectfully yours

The big game of the season will take place at the Driving Park grounds on Tuesda afternoon, Sept. 7th, when Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics meet the Clearfield Terriers. This game will be well worth witnessing and should attract a large crowd to Clearfield on that day. It will give the fans an opportunity of getting a real line on the class of baseball we are getting up this way.

Taylor, who joins the Athletics after this game, will do the twirling for Manager Hoffman's team. Lefty Bishop who was also signed by Manager Hoffman for Mack, will also likely be given a chance to show his wares to the big leaguers for an inning or two.

WHEN Prest-O-Lite entered the car-equipment field, all automobile manufacturers were using other makes of storage batteries as original equipment. And they were good batteries.

To displace these batteries, Prest-O-Lite had to demonstrate not merely a better battery, but a battery and service such a lot better that its superiority justified replacing the other makes.

Manufacturers were naturally reluctant to change such a vital unit of their car. This preference for Prest-O-Lite is tremendously significant to you as a car owner.

The Prest-O-Lite Battery uses less than one four-hundredth of its power-reserve for a single start—and the generator quickly replaces that.

You naturally think of this high-grade, high-powered battery as high-priced. The prices which we will quote you will correct any such impression.

Prove this today. Ask also about the definite guarantee whose letter and spirit say, unequivocally, that you, the car owner, Must Be Pleased!

FIRST PROSECUTION BROT UNDER NEW BEE INSPECTION LEGISLATION

The first prosecution brought by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture under the recently enacted law regulating the bee keeping industry of the state, has been successfully terminated in Berks county.

Among other provisions the law provides that bee inspectors from the Bureau of Plant Industry of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture shall have the right, at all times, to inspect apiaries. No charge is made for this inspection service and it is made solely for the purpose of preventing the spread of diseases that have greatly reduced the bee keeping industry in Pennsylvania in the past decade.

The Berks county farmer, operating half a dozen hives, refused permission to the inspector to examine the hives. The law was explained to him but he remained obdurate. An information was sworn out by the inspector and at a subsequent hearing the farmer was fined $10 and costs. When an inspection of the hives was finally made it was found that they were free of all disease.

The State Bee Keepers' Association strongly urged the passage of the law which is now in force and in most parts of the state the bee keepers welcome the visits of the inspectors, as a constant and vigilant insepction service is regarded as the only effective method of combatting European and American foul brood and similar destructive diseases.

HORSE HOLDS FIELD IN SHORT HAUL DISTRICTS

That the motor truck cannot operate with the horse in certain lines of work is the statement of Dr. H R. Church, Deputy Director of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, and who is in charge of the stallion enrollment work in this state.

Dr. Church bases his statement on the result of investigations conducted by a committee appointed by the American Meat Packers, to compute the relative costs of horses and motor-trucks in restricted districts. Dr. Church, in his statement, says:

"The ecommittee's investigation on the comparative cost of operating gas and electric autos, as compared with horses, leads inevitably to the conclusion that gas automobiles cost more to operate than horses, if they are to compete in the radius in which horses are usable. At the risk of offending our friends, the motor truck salesmen, it must be said that the horse has been, and will continue to be, our most faithful and economical servant. Under twenty miles per day, the horse is most economical. The useful life of a horse in the packer's service has been conservatively estimated at ten years; that of a wagon, 15 years, and of a set of harness, 15 years. The average life of a gasoline auto will not exceed seven years. Horses can be fed today at 65 cents per day; automobiles do not feed as cheaply. Horse repair bills, that is, veterinary, are a negligible item; automobile repair bills are not. The investment in a team of horses and a wagon is certainly no more than 25 per cent of that in an automobile of like capacity. Hence the conclusion that on work within the horse's radius, the horse will not be denied. At mileage ranging between 20 and 50 miles per day with frequent stop, electrics show an advantage over gas trucks."

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Miss Miriam Ardary has returned to her home from a motor trip spent with friends in Youngstown, O., Sagamore and Troutville.

A number of Curensville people took advantage of the great One Dollar sale staged by Clearfield merchants yesterday and went down the river to take advantage of some of the bargains advertised by merchants at the county seat and also attended the ball game.

Officers visited the stable of David Hile on Thursday evening and took therefrom a horse which they brought over to this side of town and locked up, placing the animal under care of Mr. Pentz. It was claimed that the animal was not being fed or watered properly, hence information was made to the proper authorities who took the animal in charge until the matter could be thoroughly sifted. Mr. Hile lays claim to the fact that the horse was receiving good care and that it was a case of pure spite work of some of his neighbors who have had it in for him for some time past and took this method of getting square. Mr. Hile also alleges that the night the horse was removed from his barn, three young fowls also disappeared from their usual roosting place.

Mrs. Harry P. Kirk and children, who have been absent from town for the past three weeks visiting with relatives and friends in Philipsburg and vicinity, returned to their Curwensville home Thursday evening.

Some one Friday morning placed red flags on the street tin cans which had been filled with trash, fruit, etc., denoting that they were a nuisance and a detriment to the public health. The authorities soon caught on to the full meaning of the danger signals and had the cans hauled away and dumped on the garbage pile. These cans were only placed on the streets for the purpose of receiving waste paper, but some of the storekeepers have fieen filling them with refuse that they ought to take care of themselves and expecting the borough to dispose of it at no cost to them whatever.

A large party of neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Barnett, Knox township, yesterday in order to celebrate the 80th anniversary of Mr. Barnett's birth. Several citizens of this festivities, and an elegant feed town were present and enjoyed the which had been prepared for the occasion by the ladies who had also gathered at the home of their esteemed neighbor to help entertain the host of guests. It might be just as well to mention in this connection that less thana week ago Mrs. Josephine Hagerty, living at Cross Roads, celebrated her 90th birthday anniversary. She was a daughter of Grier Bell ,the first male to have been born in the county. She is the last survivor of the Grier Bell family, which was quite a large one.

'Squire James Caldwell attended the Fruit Hill picnic the other day and claimed that he was the oldest man on the grounds, he being in his 86th year.

Everything is now cut and primed for a big celebration in Curwensville on Labor Day, September 5th. The program is complete and large colored posters have been posted telling the public all about what will take place, the weather permitting. The day's sports is sponsored by Joshua Earl Sipes Post, American Legion, which indicates lots of fun and amusement for all. The program as lined out will be as follows: Industrial and Business Mens' parade, floats, etc. Commencing at Athletic Park at 1:30 p. m. a field meet will be held consisting of a 2 mile race, 100 yard dash, running broad jump, 3 legged race, potato race, blind men's boxing match, nail driving contest, sack race, blowing contest. Cash awards for the winners in the ladies and boys events. Medal prizes for those who desire to maitain their amateur standing.

Afternoon Sports, etc: Ball game on regular grounds at the river at 3:30, between Philipsburg American Legion and Curwensville American Legion; band concert between events address by State Banking Commissioner Hon. H. S. Fisher, on timely and interesting topics at 7:30; band band concert by American Legion band on bank corner from 7 to 9; round dancing in American Legion rooms from 9 to 1; square dancing in Moose Hall same hours. Excellent dance music has been arranged for at both places.

Mrs. Herbert Sharp and daughter Miss Margaret, expect to leave Curwensville for Philadelphia on about September first where they expect to spend the winter months with Miss Irene Sharp, a daughter and sister.

There was quite a good gathering at the Good Roads meeting in the Public Building Thursday evening and considerable interest manifested in the question of the making and keeping up of permanent roads in Clearfield county. The topic was thoroughly canvassed by speakers who are conversant with the subject and much was derived from their talk. Some ideas were propounded which were rather far advanced for the present, but within a few years the people who are thoroughly alive to good road work will have them worked out by actual experience. A good many of the township roads in this section are not what they ought to be, but in order to make them any better at present would only put an excess tax on the people, who consider that their taxes are about as heavy as they can stand under the financial stress of the country at present.

Conscience.

That uncomfortable possession, a conscience, holds us back from many a coveted delight, saves us from many a sin, and drives us in many a path we would never be good enough or unselfish enough to take if only its chiding voice would let us alone. We give ourselves too much credit for our good behavior when we forget that our upbringing has brought into our house of life a personality we cannot disobey if we would live at peace.

Her Probable Intention.

Wright had been sent to the bank with his weekly amount, and when he returned he did not have his book. His mother asked him where it was. After quite a little hesitation he confided to her in a whisper, "Well, mother, the girl took it and kept it. I think she wanted to weigh it."

Red Ink for Emperors Alone.

The Roman emperor used a very expensive ,red ink in writing signatures, and its use was prohibited to all others except that their sons, if of adult age, could use it; otherwise they must have recourse to green ink.

Derived From Old French.

"Tron" is old French for weighing machine or beam. The Tron church in Edinburgh took its name from Tron near which it was built. Glasgow has a Trongate. Formerly Tronweight was a standard weight in Scotland for cheese, butter, wool and other produce.

BLOSSBURG OUT OF THEIR CLASS WHEN THEY PLAY HERE

Manager Izzy And His Gang Put The Old Score Clock Clear Around The Circuit. Game A Joke.

The real "joke" baseball game of the season was that of yesterday afternoon at the driving park when the Blossburg "champeens" met the Clearfield Terriers. The "champs"—a good team on their own lot and in their class—were hopelessly outclassed and the game was a travesty on the national game, the only feature being the heavy hitting of the locals, who could have made a barrel of runs.

New Pitcher Fell Down.

Manager Hoffman tried out "Jeff" Stauffer, the star twirler of John Patchin's Burnside team, but "Jeff" failed in a pinch, as the visitors got to him for three runs and he was sent back to the catfish banks at the head of the river.

Three Homers In One Inning.

Shortstop Spiers had the unique distinction of hitting two home runs in one inning. In the fifth Spiers opened with a mighty smash which cleared the fence in right field on the fly and on his second time up duplicated the hit. Joe Harris who has hit the ball up against the fence at the far side of the track in every game and was never able to get more than three bases on his mighty licks, finally broke the home run jinx by lacing one out for four sacks. Fileshifter also had a homer to his credit.

The score:—

Few Insects Harmful to Man.

Relatively speaking, very few species of insects are harmful in any way to man and his works. The injurious species amount to less than 1 per cent of the whole. On the other hand, a great many species are beneficial to mankind. Pollination of crops like clover would be impossible without insect visitations, and the same is true of many garden flowers and important fruits.

BOY OUTFIELDER'S GOLDEN LOCKS THE ENVY OF FAIR SEX

All The Girls Assailed By Green Eyed Demon Of Jealousy As They View Waving Locks Of 17 Year Old Outfielder Here Tuesday.

According to all indications Clearfield will entertain the biggest crowd that ever attended a ball game at the Park next Tuesday afternoon.

On every street corner, in the candy shops, restaurants, in fact everywhere in this vicinity Tuesday's game is the topic of conversation. The House of David Bearded Giants are the talk of this city, the barberless fly chasers with their long hair and untrimmed whiskers are due for a royal welcome from everyone except the barber's trust.

Curiosity Seekers Galore

Dutch Fuast the 17 year old infielder will come in for considerable inspection by the fair sex, this boy has hair which is 38 inches long and extremely thick, many a girl would give a fortune for a crop of locks like Faust's. Cookie Hanaford, the fleet footed first baseman of this unique aggegation is attracting base ball fans throughout the country by his wonderful playing of the initial sack, this is the player Manager Huggins of the Yankees offered a fabulous sum for if he would cut his hair off and visit the tonsorial artist for a shave occasionally. Jess Tally the bearded Babe Ruth who has a foliage of red whiskers is another one of the quaint ball gamers who will come in for a big share of the glares from the thousands of eyes that will glance over the visitors from Benton Harbar.

RECORD PLAY CLOSES A THREE YEAR RUN TODAY

(By United Press.)

New York, Aug 27.—"Lightnin'," New York's record long run play, will flash no more on Broadway. Tomorrow will see it on its way to be welcomed by Chicago playgoers who have been agitating for its appearance there for months.

"Lightnin'" finished its three-year run today. No other play has had such a run in New York, and no other actor has acted continuously in any single play for three years as Frank Bacon has done in the lead of "Lightnin'." The only time he was away was during a two week's vacation. An estimate of the play's gross New York receipts is two million dollars.

VETERAN MINISTER ATTENDS PICNIC

The people of the Clearfield circuit of the Methodist church (Rev. A. A. Price, pastor) held a picnic at the Driving Park Thursday which was largely attended and a complete success. District Superintendent Rev. Pyles of the Williamsport district was present and held the Second Quarterly Conference at 2 p. m. in the main exhibition building, which was very kindly tendered by the Park Association for the occasion.

The surprise and delight of the day occurred just at noon when the car of Rev. O. B. Poulson of Altoona, arrived with the old veteran and war horse of Methodism, Rev. G. P. Sarvis, of Bellwood, on board. If an angel from the Celestial City had appeared it would not have caused more surprise and delight to his many friends who mhe served here as pastor thirty-five years ago. Rev. Sarvis lives alone at Bellwood, Pa., refusing to go to the home for worn out preachers at Tyrone. He says he is not worn out although he has lost his hearing and is 73 years of age and has given nearly 50 years to te ministry.

He is still preaching and holding communion services every Sunday.

After the Quarterly Conference he was invited to address the audience and when he earose with his old time vigor to speak it sent a thrill of delight and inspiration through his hearers.

May God bless and prosper him in his declining years was the wish of all present.

He was followed by Rev. Poulson in one of his characteristic live wire addresses.

Professor Fornhave of State College and Rev. Pyles of Williamsport also made addresses.

DR. BUTLER PLEASES AUDIENCE

Last evening in the West Side M. E. church Dr. Butler entertained a small but appreciative audience with a program of violin music long to be remembersed by those who were fortunate enough to be present. To use the words of the 'Optimist' in the North American he is a master of the rosined wand.

His interpretation of the masterpieces of music showed a wealth of technique which when coupled with a deep sonorous tone gives an audience the impression that an inexplainable quality is present not obtained from mere routine work but an expression from the heart of a master. His own compositions were were received with great pleasure and the verdict returned that the name "The Great Harmonist" had been well earned. "Visions of Oleona' 'written by Dr. Butler for Ole Bull, the Norwegian violinist is a most fanciful and discriptive selection, a true token of his friendship and esteem for the Norwegian. Several original poems gave a delightful finish to the already will balanced program.

Dr. Butler was enthusiastic in his praise of the local artist, Mrs. Rhine who with her excellent work at the piano assisted in making the concert a success.

Following is the program rendered by Dr. Butler last evening:

France and Scotland Once Allies.

French influence is very marked in a number of Scotch words, which is not very surprising in view of the fact that from the early part of the Fourteenth century until the accession of James VI to the English throne, France and Scotland were allies.

SOME PEACH

Having heard much bragging concerning the girth and heftiness of peaches grown in Ohio, California and other so-called "garden spots of the world," L. McNair Smith of 615 Ross avenue, Wilkinsburg, took it upon himself to do a little press agenting for Penn township, Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, U. S. A. As a result of his endeavors he brought into the office of The Pittsburgh Post yesterday one of the finest and largest speciments of the genus Amyggdalus Persica that has been seen here or hereabouts in many moons.

The fruit was plucked from the orchard of the W. H. Kiser farm in Penn township, and, large as it is, does not, according to Mr. Smith, represent the biggest peaches of the Kiser farm, as it was picked before daylight yesterday morning and there was no chance to make a selection from the tree owing to the darkness.

The speciment weighed 9½ ounces and measured 10¼ inches in circumference. It was of the freestone variety, with firm flesh and excellent flavor.

Mingo Miners Army Disbands

Mingo War Resumed Thru Night

Some Miners Disregard Decision Of Majority And Resume March. Others Reach Charleston On Way Home. Special Deputies Rushed To Scene. No Late Reports Of Fighting.

Madison, W. Va., Aug. 27.—It was all over but the shouting here today. The march of miners had practically ended in failure to reach their destination. There were only a few stragglers who arrived after the mass meeting here yesterday afternoon when most of the men "listened to reason" and returned to their homes.

Williamson, W, Va., August 27.—Fighting between Sheriff Do nChafin's deputies and armed miners has been in progress at intervals all during last night and early today, according to a report received at military headquarters here this morning. Chafin asked for help for Mingo county and a force of 125 regulars and special State policemen left at daybreak for the scene.

McDowell county is also said to be sending 300 additional deputies by automobile.

No Estimate Of Casualties.

Chafin said he could give no estimate of the casualties because most of the firing occurred under cover of darkness. He reported however, that 1200 miners who crossed into Logan county near Sharpless late yesterday had seized the special train sent to carry them home and ran it to the terminal of the Coal Branch line near Blair, then started on the march direct to Logan. According to the report Chafin said the miners soon came into contact with his armed deputies and firing commenced.

Resume March at Midnight

Logan, W. Va., Aug. 27.—Thousands of miners are marching into Logan county in defiance of the majority who decided late yesterday to call off the "invasion" according to reports reaching here early today.

A clash was said to have occurred at the county line between deputies and miners reported molesting property. Posses of riflemen were back in their positions in vantage points in nearby hills today guarding against a possible ruse of the miners who have been marching into Mingo county.

The volunteer army was called to duty again at midnight after Logan

"CREDIT BANDIT" LOSES CONTROL OVER RETAILER

Philadelphia, Aug 27.—"The credit bandit" who in the past has taken advantage of an unprotected system, which scratched the surface but did not uncover the lower strata, or the real character and paying habit of the individual, no longer has the retail merchant at his mercy."

This is an extract from a statement of the retail merchants bureau of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, which several monts ago undertook to form a co-operative credit bureau that would prove an effectual protection for all the retail merchants of the city against unscrupulous buyers.

The new plan under which this bureau is operating contemplates a central clearing house, under competent supervision, in which all credit records will be centered so that any merchant can obtain a rating for an intended customer no matter where he may have been doing business. This plan provides for the listing of all the derogatory information as wel las good information, so that merchants are absolutely safeguarded.

FEELING OF OPTIMISM IN STEEL TRADE

The "Iron Trade Review" says: New inquiries, couple with a modest volume of buying, are tending to sustain a feeling of optimism which has prevailed in iron and steel markets since late in July. Interest in pig iron is more pronunced than last week while trading in finished steel products continues almost unchanged. Mill operations in the Mahoning valley decreased slightly but the relapse is offset by improved conditions in other steel centers. Sales of pig iron in Chicago and Philadelphia indicate that the recent buying movement was more extensive that disclosed. Sales of 10,000 tons of basic and 5,000 tons of foundry iron, and several lots of 2,000 tons each of malleable were made in a western city last week. Inquiries for large tonnages aggregate more than 10,000 tons in New York; sales in eastern Pennsylvania totalled about 15,000 tons for the weeke. Although prices of certain grades of pig iron appear to be efirmer, quotations have remaiend at a standstill during the week. The composite market average of the "Iron Trade Reeview," based on selling prices of 14 iron and steel products, remains unchanged from last week at $36.03. This compares with $35,83 on August 10, $38.15 for July and $41.87 for June.

INDUSTRIAL MEET WILL BE HELD AT HARRISBURG

Conference Will Discuss Matters Of Vital Importance In The Idustrial World Of Today.

(By United Press.)

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 27.—An Industrial Relations Conference will be held here October 24 to 27th, under supervision of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry.

This is the first time that a state body has undertaken a thing of this kind. It is a definite step toward settlement of more than a score of problems that stand in the way of restored, industrial conditions.

Government officials, representatives of labor as well as employers, commercial men, women of national prominence, cabinet members, educators and ministers will participate.

Unemployment, labor disputes, industrial waste, sanitation and safety, are some of the major questions that are to be discussed.

Secretary Hoover will discuss industrial waste, a subject with which he is more or less familiar, while Secretary Davis is expected to talk on the labor question.

Governor Sproul will select as his subject the importance of the state as a mediator and counsellor in industrial questions.

The part of women and children in industry will be explained by competent women who are working along these lines.

The keynote of the conference will be sounded by Herbert Hoover when he talks on industrial waste. There have been a number of bold assertions made with regard to the responsibility for the waste caused by labor turnover, disputes that have suspended production, and duplication of efforts. These conditions have been termed the "evils of industry," and it is likely they will call forth the most heated discussion during the conference.

Definite steps will be taken to make the conference amount to something more than a debating society and it is planned to put the members on record on a number of proposals. In respect to publicity, there will be formed an association to co-operate with the industrial press of the state to furnish "plant organs" with information of interest to trade journals.

The accomplishment that has been made in the "safety" movement will be cited at the shining example of "industrial economy," it is understood. Education, sanitation, and science are the contributing factors to safety in industry, it is claimed.

"An industrial plant worthy of the name without a safety organization today is almost unknown," Commissioner of Labor and Industry Connelley has declared in respect to safety standards.

The conference was called at the instigation of Governor Sproul. It was deemed important at this time "to crystalize the efforts put forth by industrial, commercial, engineering, governmental, civic, educational and religiou sbodies, working for the most part independent of one another."

Drama of Christ and the Multitude

By REV. J. H. SCHAFFER.

Director of Evening Classes, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

TEXT.—And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me.—Matt. 11:6.

When Jesus stepped onto the stage of this world's history He soon became a startling, sensational, crowd-compelling attraction. Everywhere He went the multitude thronged about Him to see His miracles and hear His teaching. Picture such a scene as is suggested in Matt. 4:23-25. Consider the superlatives here: "All Galilee;" "All manner of sickness;" "All manner of disease." What a clinic! His fame went throughout all Syria. They brought unto Him all sick people and He healed them. Had ever physician or surgeon such success? "And there followed Him great multitudes of people." What renown! The whole country was stirred to wild enthusiasm. Over the hills and valleys of Galilee—far away to the south to Jerusalem—across the Jordan into Syria, the news was carried of the strange and unaccountable deeds of this new prophet.

One day the situation became so intense that popularity spelled peril. Jesus, to prevent a riotous demonstration, had to disentangle Himself from the crowd by taking ship across the Sea of Galilee to His prayer retreat in the mountain. But the people were not so easily dispersed. This only served to inflame their ambitions. They determined to press their demands. Around the head of the lake a vast procession pursues, as the boat carries Him away from them. They will find Him on the other side, but when they arrive He is gone. Whither they know not. They are aroused from their intent, to realize a gnawing hunger at the close of day in a waste and barren desert.

Boy's Lunch Feeds Multitude.

The watchful eye of Jesus was upon the surging, seething throng. He knew their need. His compassion was touched. He came to their relief. But what could He do? No money—no bread, no shops—nothing of human resource to meet this tremendous need. Oh! a gleam of hope! Andrew has found a boy with a few bites for a lunch—not loaves—not fishes, but five slices and two sardines. But what are these? Nothing to a man—less to a crowd of thousands—but to Jesus sufficient for every need. He used what a boy gave Him and fed full every member of that host and they took up twelve baskets of fragments. The residue far exceeded the original investment. It always does in His hands.

Far more passionate than before became the multitude, now hunger appeased, until turned into a wild tumultuous throng that clamored to make Jesus king. Why not? A king who could feed them with miracle bread when hungry, who could command their diseases and conquer their devils, who could meet every crisis with such poise and serenity! The cry was lifted, Lead on, O King! from five thousand voices. But behold, he responds not. He is unmoved by this uprising. He again eludes the crowd. But nothing save kingship thrust upon Him would calm their emotional tempest. They take up the trail again, until they find Him in Capernaum the next day.

His opportunity has now come. They must have the mists of delusion dispelled. They must know His terms of kingship. He knows their hearts. He dares to tear off the mask: "Ye seek me for the loaves and fishes."

Turn Away Offended.

What a rebuke! Their selfishness was unclothed. They began to murmur. They challenged Him with questions. Slowly He dropped the veil of prophet and miracle worker and disclosed His real identity as Messiah—Son of God, Eternal Bread of Heaven. They looked in skeptical wonder. What can he mean? How can he give us his flesh to eat? Why, he's crazy. His head is turned. We know his mother. We know the carpenter shop where he worked with his father. We know the town he came from. He is beside himself. Think of what he is saying! He will give eternal life! Why, this is blasphemy! "And from that time many of His disciples walked no more with Him."

How largely this pictures the attitude of the world to Jesus ever since—turning the back on Him. Oh, the crowds fed by Him, protected by Him, who have turned their backs, His only reward for compassion and provision. Oh, why are men offended in Jesus? In almost every crowd, when the gospel has been preached, some have murmured, disbelieved, rebelled, turned away—never to come back. Why?

"Men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil."—John 3:19. And their darkened minds fail to understand His message.

They stumble at the cross—"Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumbling block, and unto the Greeks (Gentiles) foolishness."—I Cor. 1:23.

"They could not enter in because of unbelief."—Heb. 3:19.

"O, taste and see that the Lord is good; blessed is the man that trusteth in Him."—Psalms 34:8.

Queer Human Ways.

A man is presented to a girl and then if all goes well the girl is given away to the man.

Sunday School Lesson

LESSON FOR AUGUST 28

FROM ASIA TO EUROPE.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 16:6-15.

GOLDEN TEXT—And they said, believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house.—Acts 16:31.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Rom. 15:15-21.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Wonderful Dream.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul Crosses Over Into to Europe.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Beginning Work on a New Continent.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul Carries the Gospel to Europe.

I. Forbidden by the Holy Spirit to Preach the Word (vv. 6-8).

We have here a lesson on divine guidance. The inclination of Paul and his companions was to tarry in the provinces of Asia preaching the word, but contrary to their inclination they were hurried along. They might have reasoned "What difference would it make as to where we preach, just so the Gospel is preached?" Though seemingly small, the question as to whether the Gospel should be preached among the people in the East or in the West has determined the entire history of the church. Had they preached among the people in the East, Christianity would never have become worldwide. On the other hand, by laying hold upon the Grecian intellect and combining with it the push and energy of the Romans, it became worldwide. In the guidance of the Spirit we find Him just as active and as faithful in closing doors as in opening them. "The stops as well as the steps of a good man are ordered of the Lord." We ought to as truly recognize God's hand in the "shut-ins" as well as in the "open-outs."

II. Called to Macedonia (vv. 9-12).

A vision was given to Paul of a man from Macedonia pleading for help. This was the solution of the mystery of closed doors about them. There is a negative and a positive side to the Spirit's guidance. If we will note both we shall be able to determine with a surety the proper course of action. In order to be led aright we must be sure that we are willing to be led, pray definitely for leading, and then render willing obedience as fast as the light comes. As soon as the divine way was known they rendered immediate obedience.

III. The First Convert in Europe (vv. 13-15).

The missionaries went to Philippi. The Jewish element in this city was very insignificant; so much so that they could not afford a synagogue; therefore the devout people were accustomed to worship at the river side. To this humble gathering Paul came and preached to the women gathered there. A certain woman from Thyatira believed his message, and was baptized. Lydia was a woman of wealth, culture, and wide experience, and yet she had need of Chirst. The steps in Lydia's conversion are worthy of note:

1. Attendance at the place of prayer (v. 13). This is the case with most people who are saved.

2. Listened to the preaching of the word of God (vv. 12-14). The instrument used by the Holy Spirit in the conversion of sinners is the word of God. "Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God" (Rom. 10:17).

3. Her heart, was opened by the Lord (v. 14). Regeneration is a supernatural work. When the Gospel is preached the Spirit of God makes it living and active, opening the sinner's heart for the reception of Christ.

4. She was baptized (v. 15). It is natural for the one who believes in Christ to desire to be baptized.

5. Her household also believed (v. 15). Thus we see that her's was a typical conversion.

IV. A Spirit of Divination Cast Out (vv. 16-18).

As the missionaries went out from day to day to the place of prayer they were accosted by a young woman possessed by a spirit of divination. She was owned by a syndicate of men who derived large gains from her soothsaying. This act of the woman became a great annoyance to Paul who, in the name of Jesus Christ, commanded the evil spirit to come out. Here is a case of a spiritual medium, a fortune-teller, being freed from demoniacal possession. Many men today are making money by the degradation of womanhood, and they resent all efforts to destroy their infernal business, even try to destroy those who interefere with their business. Here as everywhere Satan blocks the way as the Gospel of Christ is carried into new fields, but the Lord is again triumphant.

The Multitude of His Mercies.

For the Lord will not cast off forever: but though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies. For he doth not afflict willingly nor grieve the children of men—Lamentations 3:31-33.

Word of Lord Was Precious.

And the child Samuel ministered unto the Lord before Eli. And the word of the Lord was precious in those days; there was no open vision. —I Samuel, 3:1.

Did you ever stop to consider that Dame Nature put all the needed ingredients into milk that is needed for proper nourishment? Experts have found out that if a person lives on one single food that milk will sustain the body longer than any one thing that's known.

And we want to say that when you're giving your kiddies all the Clearfield Milk they can drink, you're giving them that which will build bone and muscle. It is worth putting lots of milk on the kiddies' menu, isn't it?

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

"By Skinney"

Down at Bald Hill in Clearfield county, it is said the women have formed an "equal rights" society and after strenuous debate have adopted for the married women of same the slogan "Treat 'em rought," speaking of their husbands of course One of our male correspondents down there intercepted the following letter from his wife's sister, which embodies the new feeling of the women. We refuse to publish the poor devil's comments but here is the letter:

"I'm glad to know you and darling Buddie are well, but sure sorry you're having so much trouble with thot beast of yours. But take it from me, Sis, not that I want you to get mixed up in anything, but the way to handle husbands is to "treat 'em rough." Do that and you'll fare better in the end, as I'm doing.

"I wish you could be like me. I sing all day long and feel as happy as a bird with my kiddies. But don't think I've an angel to deal with, for I haven't. We're still mad and he gets one fit after another. No matter what I do, it's wrong. So—Ishkabibble! I do as I please, anyway. Treat 'em rough!"

This is a queer old world. Uncle Sam collected about $500,000 as a result of the Dempsy—Carpentier fight which appeared to be legal and alright enough to get by, but Promoter Tex Rickard has since been fined $1000 on two different occasions for showing moving pictures of the battle.

GIRLS HERE'S A CHANCE

Mrs. N. F. Lander, of Los Angeles who is slowly dying from an incurable malady, wants some good woman to take over her home and fill her place as wife and mother when she is gone. She has three children.

In her appeal Mrs. Lander made it clear the woman who accepts her offer must be kind to her children.

"I am in great distress," she said "over the grief of my darling children, whose hearts are breaking because of my condition. Isn't there some big hearted, lonely woman, who would like a home, love and companionship o fa family?

"They are all boys age. twelve and fourteen, bright obedient. I feel sure I can oman to mother my boys. She be settled in life, not too young, Protestant faith. She must like understand children and have health."

Her husband, a mechinist, scribbed as ideal.

"He is easy to get along with she says, "very considerate and kind and has been the best of husbands to me."

SAVED—BY THE STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS!

Once more the old saying that the "Devil looks after his own" seems about to be verified. War Profiteers, who must (?) have been shaking in their shoes over the loud and widely advertised threats of government prosecution, can now relapse from their momentary embarrassment, slip their feet up on the desk again, and as usual, give old Uncle Sam the merry haw haw.

The "statute of limitations," it appears, is responsible for the anticipated collapse of the movement to prosecute war profiteers. It seems the Department of Justice has been busily engaged, since the signing of the armistice, in running down evidence against these profiteers. But, and there's the hitch, they have had a hard row to hoe. The profiteers just really refuse to come forward and present their necks to the legal ax. Some of them have not so much as lost a pinfeather, and the whole flock is reported to be intact and roosting high. Due to unconcern on the part of the alleged profiteers, and their seeming unwillingness to aid the investigators in providing any proof of profiteering in their lines, the Department of Justice is said to have made slow work of marshalling evidence. As a result the majority of the cases against profiteers are incomplete, and as they now are, would not stand in court.

As comparativly few war contracts were entered into after the signing of the armistice, those who have been assailed are anxiously awaiting the date when the three year limit, set by the federal statute of limitations in such cases, will roll around, thus freeing them from any anxiety over threatened prosecution.

That is the way with this particular statute, it seems to be written for the benefit of those who mulct the public.

WHAT WOULD SHERMAN SAY NOW ?

Old General Sherman's famous "war statement" was all right in its time, but what would he say if he was over in the Mingo Mine War district today. It is practically certain he would have to revise and add to his famous assertion.

How it is that the seemingly endless squabble in the Mingo field has not been settled, one way or the other many months ago, is hard to figure. After all the threats, shootings, plots and counter-plots, charges and counter-charges that have filled the West Virginia atmosphere in the last two years, it is almost impossible to believe reports of civil warfare now going on. The next step in order will be for President Harding to extend an invitation to West Virginia to attend the Disarmament Conference. The Balkans have nothing on West Virginia when it comes to "Baby Wars."

The blame for the lawlessness on both sides can be fairly attributed to the State Government for its repeated failures to extend its authority to the disputed counties. Lawless autocracy in industry has been followed naturally by lawless rebellion.

A THRONE IN MEXICO

Politics is a dangerous thing to monkey with in Mexico, according to recent press dispatches. It makes no difference whether it is on the Rebel or Nationales side of the fence, uneasy rests the head that wears the crown in that region. Co-incident with the report that a plot to assasinate President Obregon had been frustrated, comes another saying Villa, that arch rebel who was later admitted to the government fold, is fleeing for his life with bands of his own supporters in full pursuit.

The only advantage of being engaged in politics in Mexico would seem to be an assurance that there is always something doing, and time never hangs heavy on a leader's hands.

Over in Fayette county it is reported rattlesnakes are becoming educated and automobile wise, and instead of wiggling across a road, easy prey for a brother rattler of the flivver type, now scoot through culverts under the county roads.

Which only leads us to say that in the region where rattlesnakes are plentiful in Clearfield county, a snake would wear himself out looking for a culvert to negotiate the crossing in safety.

TRAINING SEASON FOR DOGS, WEARING COLLARS, ETC

As a matter of information to dog owners, special attention is called to the present status of the law permitting the training of dogs, as follows:

Under the latest amendment to Section 26 of the Game Law, dogs may be trained upon any of the living wild game or birds, excepting elk and deer and fawns and wild turkeys, when accompanied by and under the control of their masters from the 1st day of September to the 1st day of March next following, Sundays excepted, so long as no firearms usually raised at arm's length and fired from the shoulder are carried and no injury is inflicted upon said animals or birds.

Another feature of the same section imposes a penalty of $10.00 for every day dogs are permitted to chase game during the close season and $5.00 for each game bird or rabbit killed without notice of any sort to owners to restrain dogs. Many dog owners have been under the impression that after September 1st they can turn their dogs loose and permit them to chase at will because the training season is on. This is absolutely prohibited, and dogs cannot legally be permitted to run at large and chase game at will even during the training season.

We wish also to call attention to the fact that dogs should at all times wear a collar to which is attached a metallic tag or plate on which the name and address of the owner is given in plain English; otherwise the dog may be killed without any notice if found chasing game during the close season for such bird or animal. Under the Dog License Law of the State, it is necessary that tag be attached to the collar of the dog at all times as proper protection under that law. The practice of removing collars from dogs while exercising or training or while tusing them during the open season for hunting may cause the loss of valuable dogs without redress in law, and owners are cautioned to keep collars on their dogs at all times, whether traininng or hunting.

Respectfully yours

The big game of the season will take place at the Driving Park grounds on Tuesda afternoon, Sept. 7th, when Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics meet the Clearfield Terriers. This game will be well worth witnessing and should attract a large crowd to Clearfield on that day. It will give the fans an opportunity of getting a real line on the class of baseball we are getting up this way.

The battery that is more than "Good Enough"

WHEN Prest-O-Lite entered the car-equipment field, all automobile manufacturers were using other makes of storage batteries as original equipment. And they were good batteries.

To displace these batteries, Prest-O-Lite had to demonstrate not merely a better battery, but a battery and service such a lot better that its superiority justified replacing the other makes.

Manufacturers were naturally reluctant to change such a vital unit of their car. This preference for Prest-O-Lite is tremendously significant to you as a car owner.

The Prest-O-Lite Battery uses less than one four-hundredth of its power-reserve for a single start—and the generator quickly replaces that.

You naturally think of this high-grade, high-powered battery as high-priced. The prices which we will quote you will correct any such impression.

Prove this today. Ask also about the definite guarantee whose letter and spirit say, unequivocally, that you, the car owner, Must Be Pleased!

INCENSE

If you wish to have your home free from cooking odors, let us explain the working of these little cones of sweet smelling incense—how they work, how you may even cook sauer kraut and not have the house filled with the odor, how all the various odors will impart an atmosphere that you cannot get any other way.

It doesn't cost much, but it's worth a lot to every housewife.

FIRST PROSECUTION BROT UNDER NEW BEE INSPECTION LEGISLATION

The first prosecution brought by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture under the recently enacted law regulating the bee-keeping industry of the state, has been successfully terminated in Berks county.

Among other provisions the law provides that bee inspectors from the Bureau of Plant Industry of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture shall have the right, at all times, to inspect apiaries. No charge is made for this inspection service and it is made solely for the purpose of preventing the spread of diseases that have greatly reduced the bee keeping industry in Pennsylvania in the past decade.

The Berks county farmer, operating half a dozen hives, refused permission to the inspector to examine the hives. The law was explained to him but he remained obdurate. An information was sworn out by the inspector and at a subsequent hearing the farmer was fined $10 and costs. When an inspection of the hives was finally made it was found that they were free of all disease.

The State Bee Keepers' Association strongly urged the passage of the law which is now in force and in most parts of the state the bee keepers welcome the visits of the inspectors, as a constant and vigilant insepction service is regarded as the only effective method of combatting European and American foul brood and similar destructive diseases.

HORSE HOLDS FIELD IN SHORT HAUL DISTRICTS

That the motor truck cannot operate with the horse in certain lines of work is the statement of Dr. H R. Church, Deputy Director of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, and who is in charge of the stallion enrollment work in this state.

Dr. Church bases his statement on the result of investigations conducted by a committee appointed by the American Meat Packers, to compute the relative costs of horses and motor-trucks in restricted districts. Dr. Church, in his statement, says:

"The ecommittee's investigation on the comparative cost of operating gas and electric autos, as compared with horses, leads inevitably to the conclusion that gas automobiles cost more to operate than horses, if they are to compete in the radius in which horses are usable. At the risk of offending our friends, the motor truck salesmen, it must be said that the horse has been, and will continue to be, our most faithful and economical servant. Under twenty miles per day, the horse is most economical. The useful life of a horse in the packer's service has been conservatively estimated at ten years; that of a wagon, 15 years, and of a set of harness, 15 years. The average life of a gasoline auto will not exceed seven years. Horses can be fed today at 65 cents per day; automobiles do not feed as cheaply. Horse repair bills, that is, veterinary, are a negligible item; automobile repair bills are not. The investment in a team of horses and a wagon is certainly no more than 25 per cent of that in an automobile of like capacity. Hence the conclusion that on work within the horse's radius, the horse will not be denied. At mileage ranging between 20 and 50 miles per day with frequent stop, electrics show an advantage over gas trucks."

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Miss Miriam Ardary has returned to her home from a motor trip spent with friends in Youngstown, O., Sagamore and Troutville.

A number of Curensville people took advantage of the great One Dollar sale staged by Clearfield merchants yesterday and went down the river to take advantage of some of the bargains advertised by merchants at the county seat and also attended the ball game.

Officers visited the stable of David Hile on Thursday evening and took therefrom a horse which they brought over to this side of town and locked up, placing the animal under care of Mr. Pentz. It was claimed that the animal was not being fed or watered properly, hence information was made to the proper authorities who took the animal in charge until the matter could be thoroughly sifted. Mr. Hile lays claim to the fact that the horse was receiving good care and that it was a case of pure spite work of some of his neighbors who have had it in for him for some time past and took this method of getting square. Mr. Hile also alleges that the night the horse was removed from his barn, three young fowls also disappeared from their usual roosting place.

Mrs. Harry P. Kirk and children, who have been absent from town for the past three weeks visiting with relatives and friends in Philipsburg and vicinity, returned to their Curwensville home Thursday evening.

Some one Friday morning placed red flags on the street tin cans which had been filled with trash, fruit, etc., denoting that they were a nuisance and a detriment to the public health. The authorities soon caught on to the full meaning of the danger signals and had the cans hauled away and dumped on the garbage pile. These cans were only placed on the streets for the purpose of receiving waste paper, but some of the storekeepers have been filling them with refuse that they ought to take care of themselves and expecting the borough to dispose of it at no cost to them whatever.

A large party of neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Barnett, Knox township, yesterday in order to celebrate the 80th anniversary of Mr. Barnett's birth. Several citizens of this festivities, and an elegant feed town were present and enjoyed the which had been prepared for the occasion by the ladies who had also gathered at the home of their esteemed neighbor to help entertain the host of guests. It might be just as well to mention in this connection that less than a week ago Mrs. Josephine Hagerty, living at Cross Roads, celebrated her 90th birthday anniversary. She was a daughter of Grier Bell ,the first male to have been born in the county. She is the last survivor of the Grier Bell family, which was quite a large one.

'Squire James Caldwell attended the Fruit Hill picnic the other day and claimed that he was the oldest man on the grounds, he being in his 86th year.

Everything is now cut and primed for a big celebration in Curwensville on Labor Day, September 5th. The program is complete and large colored posters have been posted telling the public all about what will take place, the weather permitting. The day's sports is sponsored by Joshua Earl Sipes Post, American Legion, which indicates lots of fun and amusement for all. The program as lined out will be as follows: Industrial and Business Mens' parade, floats, etc. Commencing at Athletic Park at 1:30 p. m. a field meet will be held consisting of a 2 mile race, 100 yard dash, running broad jump, 3 legged race, potato race, blind men's boxing match, nail driving contest, sack race, blowing contest. Cash awards for the winners in the ladies and boys events. Medal prizes for those who desire to maitain their amateur standing.

Afternoon Sports, etc: Ball game on regular grounds at the river at 3:30, between Philipsburg American Legion and Curwensville American Legion; band concert between events address by State Banking Commissioner Hon. H. S. Fisher, on timely and interesting topics at 7:30; band band concert by American Legion band on bank corner from 7 to 9; round dancing in American Legion rooms from 9 to 1; square dancing in Moose Hall same hours. Excellent dance music has been arranged for at both places.

Mrs. Herbert Sharp and daughter Miss Margaret, expect to leave Curwensville for Philadelphia on about September first where they expect to spend the winter months with Miss Irene Sharp, a daughter and sister.

There was quite a good gathering at the Good Roads meeting in the Public Building Thursday evening and considerable interest manifested in the question of the making and keeping up of permanent roads in Clearfield county. The topic was thoroughly canvassed by speakers who are conversant with the subject and much was derived from their talk. Some ideas were propounded which were rather far advanced for the present, but within a few years the people who are thoroughly alive to good road work will have them worked out by actual experience. A good many of the township roads in this section are not what they ought to be, but in order to make them any better at present would only put an excess tax on the people, who consider that their taxes are about as heavy as they can stand under the financial stress of the country at present.

Her Probable Intention.

Wright had been sent to the bank with his weekly amount, and when he returned he did not have his book. His mother asked him where it was. After quite a little hesitation he confided to her in a whisper, "Well, mother, the girl took it and kept it. I think she wanted to weigh it."

BLOSSBURG OUT OF THEIR CLASS WHEN THEY PLAY HERE

Manager Izzy And His Gang Put The Old Score Clock Clear Around The Circuit. Game A Joke.

The real "joke" baseball game of the season was that of yesterday afternoon at the driving park when the Blossburg "champeens" met the Clearfield Terriers. The "champs"—a good team on their own lot and in their class—were hopelessly outclassed and the game was a travesty on the national game, the only feature being the heavy hitting of the locals, who could have made a barrel of runs.

New Pitcher Fell Down.

Manager Hoffman tried out "Jeff" Stauffer, the star twirler of John Patchin's Burnside team, but "Jeff" failed in a pinch, as the visitors got to him for three runs and he was sent back to the catfish banks at the head of the river.

Three Homers In One Inning.

Shortstop Spiers had the unique distinction of hitting two home runs in one inning. In the fifth Spiers opened with a mighty smash which cleared the fence in right field on the fly and on his second time up duplicated the hit. Joe Harris who has hit the ball up against the fence at the far side of the track in every game and was never able to get more than three bases on his mighty licks, finally broke the home run jinx by lacing one out for four sacks. Fileshifter also had a homer to his credit.

The score:—

Few Insects Harmful to Man.

Relatively speaking, very few species of insects are harmful in any way to man and his works. The injurious species amount to less than 1 per cent of the whole. On the other hand, a great many species are beneficial to mankind. Pollination of crops like clover would be impossible without insect visitations, and the same is true of many garden flowers and important fruits.

DEMPSEY MATCHED WITH BRENNAN

New York, Aug. 26—Heavyweight Champion Jack Dempsey and Bill Brennan, the Chicago heavyweight, have been matched for another battle. This time the men will face each other in a Buffalo ring on November 26. They are scheduled to box 15 rounds before the Queensberry A. C. of which Charley Murray is the manager and matchmaker.

I felt sure I was suffering with the first stages of pneumonia. BOY OUTFIELDER'S GOLDEN LOCKS THE ENVY OF FAIR SEX

All The Girls Assailed By Green Eyed Demon Of Jealousy As They View Waving Locks Of 17 Year Old Outfielder Here Tuesday.

According to all indications Clearfield will entertain the biggest crowd that ever attended a ball game at the Park next Tuesday afternoon.

On every street corner, in the candy shops, restaurants, in fact everywhere in this vicinity Tuesday's game is the topic of conversation. The House of David Bearded Giants are the talk of this city, the barberless fly chasers with their long hair and untrimmed whiskers are due for a royal welcome from everyone except the barber's trust.

Curiosity Seekers Galore

Dutch Fuast the 17 year old infielder will come in for considerable inspection by the fair sex, this boy has hair which is 38 inches long and extremely thick, many a girl would give a fortune for a crop of locks like Faust's. Cookie Hanaford, the fleet footed first baseman of this unique aggegation is attracting base ball fans throughout the country by his wonderful playing of the initial sack, this is the player Manager Huggins of the Yankees offered a fabulous sum for if he would cut his hair off and visit the tonsorial artist for a shave occasionally. Jess Tally the bearded Babe Ruth who has a foliage of red whiskers is another one of the quaint ball gamers who will come in for a big share of the glares from the thousands of eyes that will glance over the visitors from Benton Harbar.

RECORD PLAY CLOSES A THREE YEAR RUN TODAY

(By United Press.)

New York, Aug 27.—"Lightnin'," New York's record long run play, will flash no more on Broadway. Tomorrow will see it on its way to be welcomed by Chicago playgoers who have been agitating for its appearance there for months.

"Lightnin'" finished its three-year run today. No other play has had such a run in New York, and no other actor has acted continuously in any single play for three years as Frank Bacon has done in the lead of "Lightnin'." The only time he was away was during a two week's vacation. An estimate of the play's gross New York receipts is two million dollars.

Music of Nature.

There is a true music of nature—the song of birds, the whisper of leaves, the ripple of waters upon a sandy shore, the wail of wind or sea.—Sir John Lubbock.

To Remove a Tight Can Lid.

Can lids are often difficult to remove. Here is a plan by means of which they can be loosened easily. Tie a piece of stout twine loosely just below the cover, then thrust under the twine a pencil and start to twist this. When the twine is tight, the cover of the can comes away readily.

VETERAN MINISTER ATTENDS PICNIC

The people of the Clearfield circuit of the Methodist church (Rev. A. A. Price, pastor) held a picnic at the Driving Park Thursday which was largely attended and a complete success. District Superintendent Rev. Pyles of the Williamsport district was present and held the Second Quarterly Conference at 2 p. m. in the main exhibition building, which was very kindly tendered by the Park Association for the occasion.

The surprise and delight of the day occurred just at noon when the car of Rev. O. B. Poulson of Altoona, arrived with the old veteran and war horse of Methodism, Rev. G. P. Sarvis, of Bellwood, on board. If an angel from the Celestial City had appeared it would not have caused more surprise and delight to his many friends who mhe served here as pastor thirty-five years ago. Rev. Sarvis lives alone at Bellwood, Pa., refusing to go to the home for worn out preachers at Tyrone. He says he is not worn out although he has lost his hearing and is 73 years of age and has given nearly 50 years to te ministry.

He is still preaching and holding communion services every Sunday.

After the Quarterly Conference he was invited to address the audience and when he earose with his old time vigor to speak it sent a thrill of delight and inspiration through his hearers.

May God bless and prosper him in his declining years was the wish of all present.

He was followed by Rev. Poulson in one of his characteristic live wire addresses.

Professor Fornhave of State College and Rev. Pyles of Williamsport also made addresses.

DR. BUTLER PLEASES AUDIENCE

Last evening in the West Side M. E. church Dr. Butler entertained a small but appreciative audience with a program of violin music long to be remembersed by those who were fortunate enough to be present. To use the words of the 'Optimist' in the North American he is a master of the rosined wand.

His interpretation of the masterpieces of music showed a wealth of technique which when coupled with a deep sonorous tone gives an audience the impression that an inexplainable quality is present not obtained from mere routine work but an expression from the heart of a master. His own compositions were were received with great pleasure and the verdict returned that the name "The Great Harmonist" had been well earned. "Visions of Oleona' written by Dr. Butler for Ole Bull, the Norwegian violinist is a most fanciful and discriptive selection, a true token of his friendship and esteem for the Norwegian. Several original poems gave a delightful finish to the already will balanced program.

Dr. Butler was enthusiastic in his praise of the local artist, Mrs. Rhine who with her excellent work at the piano assisted in making the concert a success.

Following is the program rendered by Dr. Butler last evening:

France and Scotland Once Allies.

French influence is very marked in a number of Scotch words, which is not very surprising in view of the fact that from the early part of the Fourteenth century until the accession of James VI to the English throne, France and Scotland were allies.

Tit for Tat.

When Lord Randolph Churchill visited the diamond fields of South Africa he is said to have exclaimed after looking at some diamonds: "And all for the vanity of women." A lady who heard the remark added: "And the depravity of men."

SOME PEACH

Having heard much bragging concerning the girth and heftiness of peaches grown in Ohio, California and other so-called "garden spots of the world," L. McNair Smith of 815 Ross avenue, Wilkinsburg, took it upon himself to do a little press agenting for Penn township, Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, U. S. A. As a result of his endeavors he brought into the office of The Pittsburgh Post yesterday one of the finest and largest speciments of the genus Amyggdalus Persica that has been seen here or hereabouts in many moons.

The fruit was plucked from the orchard of the W. H. Kiser farm in Penn township, and, large as it is, does not, according to Mr. Smith, represent the biggest peaches of the Kiser farm, as it was picked before daylight yesterday morning and there was no chance to make a selection from the tree owing to the darkness.

The specimen weighed 9½ ounces and measured 10¼ inches in circumference. It was of the freestone variety, with firm flesh and excellent flavor.
